The duties of the NHS in such situations are covered elsewhere and as such are not repeated here. People access information and advice from a wide variety of sources. Our commitment to human rights is outlined in our Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement.

In particular, section 193 permits a local authority to meet needs which a person may choose not to have an assessment because they do not feel that they need care or they may not want local authority support. Whether to act under this power is a judgement for the local authority to make in the first instance.
